

Explore the Dolomiti di Brenta Bike territory

The Brenta Dolomites are well known to the majority for their charm, for the romantic colours of its limestone and for its peaks: Grostè, Spinale, Crozzon di Brenta, Campanil Basso, Val d'Ambiez, Monte Peller, worldwide famous places known to alpinists, climbers and trekkers.

Dolomiti di Brenta Bike offers you a new experience, a new face of this unique and suggestive territory. It was born out of the result of important and serious preparation of the area and the hospitality for those who will take the tour.

As the many bikers who take on the challenge of the Transalp Tour know, the Dolomiti di Brenta territory is part of the Adamello Brenta Natural Park and covers six territories and worldfamous tourist destinations: Val Rendena (Pinzolo and Madonna di Campiglio), Terme di Comano, Altopiano della Paganella (Molveno and Andalo), Val di Non and Val di Sole.

The Adamello Brenta Natural Park is famous worldwide for being the first to have reintroduced the brown bear in the territory, more specifically right in the Brenta area. The Dolomiti di Brenta Bike logo is inspired by the important and historic presence of the bear, testimony to the unspoiled woodland area and of man's attention in the management and preservation of a natural treasure.
